 Need Help?

Famba becomes Zimnat's retention layer

01

Retention

Every transport booking re-engages a platform carrying Zimnat's products.

02

Interaction

A direct WhatsApp line for reminders, offers, and updates — not one-way marketing.

03

Distribution

Insurance becomes a natural add-on to journeys customers already book.

04

Convenience

Buy cover, book a biker, and print documents — one thread, one nearby visit.

WhatsApp to outlet, in one loop

The outlet-print step is deliberate: every motor sale becomes a scheduled, paid-for visit to a physical Zimnat location.

Fully digital. Built for speed.

01

Select Cover

While booking a trip, or independently on Famba

02

Quote & Pay

Completed in-chat or on the Famba
checkout

03

Instant Certificate

Issued immediately to WhatsApp and email

04

Discount Applied

Same loyalty logic as motor — no
outlet visit

The print step is a footfall engine.

1 sale

= 1 guaranteed outlet visit

A paying customer walks into a Zimnat branch — zero extra marketing spend

Staff get a natural moment to cross-sell home, life, funeral, or investment cover

Funded entirely by transactions that would otherwise leave no digital trace

A discount that costs Zimnat nothing new.

Famba users draw on Zimnat's existing discount structure — not a new, separately funded tier.

Commercially neutral

No new pricing liability — Famba draws on discount logic Zimnat already offers.

Honest incentive

Buying through Famba costs no more — often less — than any other channel.

Convenience included

WhatsApp ordering and delivery support at no extra cost to the customer.

How Famba makes money

01

Insurance Commission

A cut of every policy sold through Famba — motor first, travel next, more insurers over time.

02

Marketplace Commission

Famba's existing engine — car rentals, bus hire, drivers, mechanics, roadside, courier delivery.

03

Platform Growth

As more insurers join the travel product, each new partner adds a further commission stream.

Commission split and system-maintenance allocation to be confirmed with Zimnat as part of the Phase 1 agreement.

What each side receives

ZIMNAT

- A recurring-use channel for a once-a-year product
- Direct customer interaction between renewals
- Foot traffic and brand awareness at outlets
- A low-cost channel via Famba's existing client base
- Behavioural data on cover-and-transport habits

FAMBA

- An anchor insurer lending credibility and client base
- A monetisable insurance layer on existing infrastructure
- Commission revenue on every policy sold
- A stronger value proposition — insurance, not just transport
- A structured path to add insurers once proven

Phased rollout

PHASE 1

Motor Pilot

WhatsApp quote-and-pay, QR confirmation, outlet print at defined Zimnat locations, seeded by Famba's existing client database.

PHASE 2

Travel Insurance

Fully digital flow integrated into car rental, bus hire, and cross-border transport bookings.

PHASE 3

Scale

Native app launch, expanded outlet network, evaluation of additional insurers on the travel product.

NEXT STEPS

The Ask

01 Sign-off on the Phase 1 motor insurance pilot, including participating outlets

02 Confirmation of the discount tier within Zimnat's existing structure

03 Agreement on per-policy commission for Phase 1, ahead of scoping Phase 2
